Good morning I.S.201! This is Riley from class 731 here with you this talk a lot Tuesday on behalf of the S.E.A.L. Team.

Did you know that today is the 95th anniversary of our nation's national anthem, The Star Spangled Banner. First written during a defining moment in our nation's history, the anthem has echoed through generations, reminding us of the courage and determination that shaped our country. From classrooms to stadiums, from official ceremonies to community gatherings, its familiar notes continue to inspire pride and reflection.

As we mark this special anniversary, let us honor the history behind the anthem and the values it represents liberty, perseverance, and hope. May its words continue to unite us and remind us of the shared ideals that bring us together as one nation. You too can join in celebrating this meaningful day by reflecting on our heritage.

Like Albert Einstein, the affirmation of the day is, "I stay curious about the world around me."

Thanks for listening and have a Tribute Tuesday 😊
