Good morning! It's Rainie from the S.E.A.L. Team, back with you all for S.E.A.L. Summary Friday.

Do you all remember how we had to stay indoors during the COVID pandemic? Well, it brought us the art of online learning. When you're stuck at home and you nothing to do, go online! The internet is a vast ocean of information and resources that may guide you. With the ability to learn any subject at any time, learning has never been easier! With just the click of a button, you could be learning how to knit, or taking an online course for an instrument you're interested in learning! Today is National Online Learning Day and it is the perfect time to show appreciation for the online applications we have for learning. Today is also a day to learn more about and raise awareness about all aspects of online learning and the opportunities it can provide for us through education in our lives. You can celebrate today by learning a new hobby online, or using a online platform for a subject you're having trouble with.

Thanks for listening, and have Flash Drive Friday 😊
